At a recent meeting of the Garfield Citizens' Association several matters of general interest were discussed. The committee on public schools presented a report on the educational system in the District and the appropriations for the next fiscal year. The con.mittee voiced the opinion that while many of the pending bills contained some features which, if enacted into law, apart from the numerous objectionable portions, might work a material benefit to the school system, the only bill it believes should passed at this time is House bill 8472. The committee also submitted for consideration the matter of compulsory education in the District, reporting that the enactment of such a law would undoubtedly enactment of such a law would undoubtedly be productive of more general good to the entire District in eliminating the idle class than any other measure which could be introduced. The association unanimously adopted the report of its school committee. The committee having in charge the ques-tion of street improvements reported that the repairing of Ainger avenus would be started in the near future, or as soon as that street is reached on the list of im-provements. Acting on a report of the comprovements. Acting on a report of the com-mittee on postal service, the proper officers of the association were instructed to take up the matter of securing better postal service for the suburb, the present system providing for only one delivery of mail each day. WARSHIPS IN WEST INDIES.

Four Battleships and Eight Other Vessels at Port of Spain.

Four big battleships, the Maine, Missouri, Kentucky and Kearsarge, the Yankton and seven torpedo-boat destroyers turned up at Port of Spain, Island of Trinidad, yesterday. They form the best part of the Atlantic fleet, and the purpose of entering the Gulf of Paria, so near to Venezuela, is simply to give the bluejackets an opportunity for shore liberty after some of the hardest kind of drilling. At the same time the battleships Alabama, Illinois and Iowa have put in at Barbadoes, the West Virginia is at St. Kitts, the Pennsylvania is at St. Vincent's and the Maryland at Antiqua. This distribution is said to be necessary from the fact that no single port in the West Indies could entertain in com-fort the many thousand bluejackets of the whole Atlantic fleet.
